The Types of Resemblance (between mabni words and prepositions):

1. In Formation (وَضْع); ...

2. In Meaning (مَعْنَى); as in 'مَتَى' (when), used for asking questions (as some prepositions such as 'أ' are used for it)

'هُنَا' is another noun that is mabni because of its resemblance to the horuf; how? There should have been prepositions signifying indication, as there are many prepositions used for other meanings; therefore 'هُنَا' resembles some assumed preposition which does not exist.

Resemblance in Meaning:

A. To the existent prepositions; example: مَتَى-أَيْنَ-كَيْفَ → أَهْل-إِنْ

B. To non-existent (assumed) prepositions; example: هُنَا-هَذَا → ...
