Lesson 33

The Divisions of Words

(تقسيمات الألفاظ)

Conditions of Consecutive Accord “الدلالة الإلزامية”

- A necessary relationship in the mind between the meaning of the vocal expression and the meaning of the concomitant.
- The necessary relationship must be obvious, insofar as the mind will then be conveyed to the concomitant, without any intermediate term.

The Divisions of Words

Expressions can be divided according to the various ways that one can look at the relationship between expression and meaning.

- A Single (مختص) word
- Multiple (متعدد) word
- The absolute (مطلق) word, regardless of its singularity or multiplicity
