- Every relative species “النوع الاضافي” must have a differentia “فصل” which is a constituent part of it and a separator of it from other species under its genus “جنس”. For example, “sensitive”(حساس) is a constituent part of “حيوان” which separates it as a “sensitive organic body” from the “insensitive organic body”.
- Organic body can be divided into: sensitive organic body and insensitive organic body.
- The differentia which constitute its “نوع” constitutes a part of the other species under that as well because it is a part of the upper “نوع” and the upper is a part of the lower and a part of a part is a part.
