- Many quarrels and conflicts happen in different fields because of the ambiguity and disagreement about the concept of the used words. Some politicians even use them to deceive the people and, in the meantime, influence them by letting them conceive what they admire, such as the word “freedom”.
- The need for definitions: One who wants to deal with realities must put their definitions in simple forms and frames so that those definitions would not exceed or fail the frames of their concepts and the audience would understand them the same.
- One needs to know about the definition types and their rulings and conditions so that he/she can control their thoughts, preserve a clear picture of concepts in mind, and transfer them to other’s thoughts correctly.
