Rules Pertaining to the Dead

Third: Takfin

It is wajib to use three pieces for kafan: the first is called mi'zar (apron, extending from the navel to the knees), the second is the qamis (which covers the body from shoulders to the shanks); and the third called izar (wrapper). In emergent cases one piece suffices.

- It is not permissible to cover the dead with a kafan made of silk.
- It is wajib to rub the seven parts of a dead body that touch the ground while prostrating (masajid) with camphor, except the person that dies in the state of ihram.
- It is wajib to rub the seven parts of a dead body that touch the ground while prostrating (masajid) with camphor, except the person that dies in the state of ihram.

- The minimum amount (of camphor) is one dirham and when necessary, the dead can be buried without camphor. It is impermissible to perfume the dead with other than the camphor and dharirah (the fragments of a cane of scent).
