Lesson 42

Fourth Rukn

The Najasat and their Rules

The Najasat (impurities):

1-2) Urine and Excrement

The urine and excrement of any haram-meat animal, and whose blood gushes when coming out, whether it be haram as lion, or that the prohibition has befallen it such as the jallal (which eats human excrement), are najis.

3) Semen:

The semen of every animal (whose blood gushes out on coming out), whether lawful or forbidden for food, is najis.

4) Corpse:

No carcass is najis except that of an animal which possesses blood that flows on coming out.

✚ Every unanimated part - like bone and hair - is tahir, except that which is najis in kind and by itself such as the dog, pig and kafir (infidel).

✚ Ghusl becomes wajib on one touching a corpse (of a human) after it has turned cold and before it is given the bath; so is the rule regarding a person who touches an amputated part of a dead (or living) person if it contains a bone.

5) Blood:

The blood of every animal whose blood flows on coming out (having blood - vessel), is najis. However, the blood which perspires on coming out like blood of fish and alike, is tahir.
